38TH PSYCHODYNAMICS INTERVIEW COURSE

Why You Should Attend This Course

The Psychodynamics Interview Course is a dynamic approach of interviewing people with a fresh perspective, using the soft skills-set of psychodynamics principles, behavioural analyses, role plays and themes to rationalize and persuading them to come to a sense of reality of the predicament under scrutiny. It is customized for investigation/enforcement officers, human resource officers, supervisors, managers and directors who interview people involved in investigations, inquiries, applications for licenses and jobs, fact-findings, etc. to elicit the truth to identify the McCoy.

2 One of the fundamentals is to build rapport and connection with people for a deeper understanding and mutual respect conducive for them to come forward to face the current reality. The dynamic of interviewing people using the soft skills-set of psychodynamics principles in non-accusatory and accusatory interviews, reinforced by behavioural analyses, role plays and applying appropriate themes to influence people to be forthcoming in facing the current predicament and a sense of reality upfront.

3 The non-accusatory interview is to assess the probable involvement of people under investigation/scrutiny. Reinforced by the behavioural analyses of people who may be deceptive during the interview, the next step is to launch an accusatory interview using role plays and appropriate themes to sustain influential monologues to increase the proficiency in harnessing the power of persuasion to exert command and control over them surreptitiously.

4 Learn the subtle techniques in observing the palpable changes of facial mood of deceptive people during the accusatory interview and the soft skills-set in listening intently for clipped words uttered, indicating the (buy-in) signal for a positive confrontation. At the right moment, unleash the passion and inner voices for deceptive people to open up and confide the truth to you.

5 In short, using the soft skills-set of psychodynamics principles of non-accusatory and accusatory interviews, behavioural analyses, role plays and themes to rationalize and influencing deceptive people to face the predicament with a sense of reality upfront has produced far more positive results. The confrontational Question-and-Answer interview methodology often raises the ire and hackles of people from the onset to deny the predicament and a sense of reality continuously throughout an interview with far more negative results.

Course Objective

6 By the end of the 2-day Psychodynamics Interview Course, it should broaden your mental model of the interview techniques. You should be able to apply the soft skills-set of psychodynamics principles of non-accusatory and accusatory interviews, behavioural analyses, role plays and themes to rationalize and influencing people to face the predicament and a sense of reality upfront to confide the truth in you. Your exposure to Psychodynamics Interview Course will add value to your learning journey in the art of interviewing and investigating people to seek the truth.

7 The 2-day Psychodynamics Interview Course will take you through a step-by-step process in the art of psychodynamics interview, reinforced by viewing the ‘live’ video-recording of actual cases of deceptive people interviewed by Master Course Trainer Mr Koa Fung Chew. It is indeed a rare opportunity for you to witness the art of non-accusatory and accusatory interviews, behavioural analyses, role plays and using the appropriate themes to influence people to tell the truth. The practising Master has been interviewing people for more than 47 years. You are also privileged to hear at first hand the trade secrets of Master Psychodynamics Interviewer in commercial practices with 100% success rates.

Course Trainer

8 The Master Course Trainer Mr Koa Fung Chew is a Psychodynamics Interview Practitioner in commercial world. His clients engage him to interview the company management staff and employees to help police solve the alleged thefts, commercial frauds, pilfering of company property, outraging modesty of staff/customers, etc. Not only Mr Koa uses the psychodynamics interview techniques to pin-point the deceptive culprits committing the offences, he also convinces them in disclosing the truth voluntarily. The test of the pudding is in the eating. He has 100% success rates to date. His expertise is widely sought after in Singapore, Brunei, Indonesia, Thailand, Hong Kong, China, Middle East, Australia and New Zealand. With the tremendous success in commercial interviews, the American MNCs operating in China have engaged his expertise in the psychodynamics interview on a long-term contract basis since mid-2015. Despite his hectic work schedules in China, it is the master course trainer’s passion to share and pass down the soft skills-set and trade secrets of psychodynamics interview principles and fundamentals to the present generation of investigators, law enforcement officers, human resource officers, civil servants and public officers to continue making Singapore a safer and better place to live, work and play for all of us, as time and tide waits for no man.

Course Module

9 The course module is designed by retired professional Police Superintendents who were the prime movers during their respective careers in the premier Internal Security Department (ISD) and Criminal Investigation Department (CID) of the Singapore Police Force.
